

On Ideas, CBC Radio 1, 9pm

Friday, April 22

WARNING: DARK AGE AHEAD, Part One CD

Legendary writer Jane Jacobs describes how Dark Ages, cultures' dead ends, happen as knowledge is lost and ideas vanish. Jacobs warns that five social pillars are crumbling: family and community, higher education, science, representative government, and professional self-regulation. With analysis by Robert Lucas (economics), Alan Jacobs (city planning), Henry Mintzberg (management), and others. Part two continues on April 29.